Organizational Loyalty and Organizational Commitment: An Analysis in Terms of Political Party Organizations

Akyay UYGUR
Gazi Üniversitesi
uygura@gazi.edu.tr

Hakan KOÇ
Gazi Üniversitesi
hkoc@gazi.edu.tr

Abstract

Sense of belonging is a psychological condition in which loyalties are divided into two. Organizational commitment, the value of the individual within the organization to accept and hear the desire to remain in the organization as it is defined. Identify a specific individual's loyalty to the organizational integration organizations, in the form of sincere commitment and dedication has been defined. This study aimed to determine the level of organizational loyalty to Turkey's third largest political party (AKP, CHP, MHP), feeling of belonging to the organization aims to determine the level of loyalty of the individual. Organizational loyalty created in accordance with this scale in city information was collected from 674 people. Accordingly, the highest level of organizational loyalty to the party MHP, the second CHP and third place in the AKP has emerged.

Key words: Organizational loyalty, organizational commitment, political parties